The Role of a Lifeguard

Lifeguarding, whether in the pools or on the beach patrol, is a highly demanding job—physically, mentally, and emotionally. It requires that you maintain a high level of physical fitness, develop proficiency in the skills and craft of lifeguarding, and maintain a sustained focus and heightened level of concentration. While it can be a very rewarding experience, lifeguarding is fundamentally a serious profession, and we hold our guards to a high standard of excellence in Spring Lake.

We require our lifeguards to complete vigorous physical training on a daily basis, often involving running, swimming, rowing, paddling, and/or lifting/pushing with a high level of intensity.

On a daily basis, lifeguards will be expected to perform any and all of the following physical activities:

- Open water swimming
- Running and sprinting in soft sand
- Climbing and descending from lifeguard stands (approximately 6-8 feet above ground level)
- Kayak
- Paddle
- Row a boat
